Suppliers and Manufacturers

Several Syrian companies and distributors provide cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial projects: Union Electric Group (UEG Cables): Based in Adra Industrial Zone near Damascus, UEG produces high-quality power cables and cable management solutions compliant with international standards (IEC, BS, NF, VDE). They offer products for local and regional markets and can provide customized solutions for grid cable trays. Syria Cables: Established in 1991, Syria Cables manufactures low- to medium-voltage electrical cables and related cable management systems.

They focus on durable copper and aluminum solutions and can support industrial, residential, and commercial projects. International Suppliers: Platforms like Go4WorldBusiness and Europages list Syrian cable tray suppliers, including galvanized and steel options. These suppliers often provide bulk pricing and can be contacted directly for quotes.

Factors Affecting Price

The cost of Syrian grid cable trays depends on several factors: Material: Steel, galvanized steel, aluminum, or PVC trays have different price points. Galvanized steel is commonly used for durability and corrosion resistance. Size and Load Capacity: Tray width, depth, and load rating influence pricing.

Larger or heavy-duty trays cost more. Quantity: Bulk orders typically reduce the per-unit cost. Customization: Special coatings, perforations, or design modifications can increase the price.

Supplier and Certification: Prices may vary depending on whether the manufacturer is certified or approved for specific industrial projects.

How to Obtain Pricing

To get accurate and up-to-date pricing: Contact Suppliers Directly: Reach out to UEG Cables, Syria Cables, or other verified Syrian manufacturers for a detailed quote. Request Bulk Quotes: Platforms like Go4WorldBusiness allow buyers to request bulk pricing from multiple suppliers simultaneously. Specify Requirements: Provide tray dimensions, material type, load capacity, and quantity to receive precise pricing.
